STUDENT SPECIAL PACKAGE

for our "Evening of Farces"

Sunday, Feb 15 2:00 pm matinee show

(pre-show talk at 1:45pm)

Coralville Center for the Performing Arts

COMEDY

See The Real Inspector Hound by Tom Stoppard and Black Comedy by Peter Shaffer; enjoy a pre-show talk with Dramaturg Nancy Mayfield about the nature of farce in general, and these two plays in particular; and participate in a talk-back with members of the cast and production team after the show.

$13/student, or $10/person for groups of ten or more students and chaperones.

Additionally, students of acting are invited to come to the Center early for free workshops. From 10:00 am-1:00 pm, City Circle presents two classes for students who are attending the show.

BONUS: ACTING CLASSES!

Choose from

Finding The Funny: A comedic acting workshop taught by Patrick DuLaney (bring a monologue*) or

Finding The Funny on The Fly: An Improv workshop taught by Elijah Jones.

Call the Coralville Center for the Performing Arts for tickets and to reserve space in the workshops.

After the workshops, students will have a 45-minute break for lunch. They can bring lunches, or get lunch nearby: both Applebee's and New Pioneer Co-op are within walking distance of the theater, and there are several other options within a five-minute drive.

THE FINE PRINT

Classes are included in the package price, and are open to students in 7th grade and above. Class sizes are limited, and will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Request space(s) in the class(es) when you call to purchase tickets. The two classes run concurrently, so each student can only take one.

Students should wear loose clothing to both classes, to allow for freedom of movement.

*Students taking the comedic acting workshop must come prepared with a memorized monologue of their choice.
